Front-end web developer, I believe that education is the best way to improve human civilization. With experience in Javascript, CSS, React.js, WordPress, Woocommerce. I built many websites for clients using WordPress and it's ecosystem, and I bring strong skills in content management that helps digital-based companies drive more sales/leads, and build a good relationship with customers. I worked on selling products for companies on both eCommerce websites and e-marketplace websites as well, and proud to help many clients to build their dream websites.
